DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 11-15 are rejected under 35 USC § 102(b) as being anticipated by Schade et al. (“Schade”) U.S. Patent No. 4,199,733.

With regards to claim 11, Schade illustrates in figures 1-4, particularly figure 2, (entire document) a substrate 59; a gate 62 formed on the substrate; a source 57 and drain 53 region formed in the substrate and respectively on both sides of the gate, the drain region being coupled to a pad 60 and the source region being coupled to receive a reference voltage 10; and a lightly doped region 54 formed in the substrate, and only between the gate and the drain region, having a depth greater than that of the drain region.

With regards to claim 12, Schade illustrates in fig. 2 the source 57 and drain 53 region are N+ doped regions.

With regards to claims 13 and 15, it is well known in the semiconductor art that the conductive type can be interchanged and have the same device structure.

With regards to claim 14, Schade illustrates in fig. 2 the lightly doped region is an N type.

With regards to claims 14 and 15, the examiner had to assume what the product would be by the process claimed. For example, in claim 14 it was assumed that the product was a lightly doped region of an N type. The claim that it was “implantation region” was not considered to have full patentable weight. A “product by process” claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, MPEP 2113 “Product-by-Process Claims,” In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685; In re Luck, 177 USPQ 523; In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324; In re Avery, 186 USPQ 161; In re Wertheim, 191 USPQ 90; In re Marosi et al, 218 USPQ 289; and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final product per se which must be determined in a “product by process” claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in “product by process” claims or not. Note that applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above case law makes clear.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 16-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 04/13/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The argument that “the gate partially overlaps the lightly doped regions. SCAHDE et al. does not imply the lightly doped region is between the gate and the drain region only” is not persuasive. That a projection of the gate does not overlap the lightly doped region has not been clearly claimed. SCAHDE shows the lightly doped region is between the gate and the drain region only. The lightly doped region is clearly not between the gate and source region. If the claims had the limitation that a projection of the gate does not overlap the lightly doped region, it would be clearer.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
